Astros restore radio, continue lunar flight

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Electrical interference knocked out Apollo 16's main guidance system for 18 minutes today but the astronauts fixed it with instructions radioed from the ground and pressed on toward their Wednesday rendezvous with the moon.

The loss of the main guidance system was the most serious trouble in the first two days of the 12-day mission to the unexplored lunar highlands. It occurred when the moonship was 164,000 miles from earth. Controllers found the source of the problem and radioed commands up to Thomas K. Mattingly, the pilot of the command ship Casper, who quickly fixed the system after an alarm sounded at 3:12 a.m. PST.

"We're go at this time," Flight director Philip Schaffer reported after the complex electronic device used to steer the astronauts through trackless space was back in service. Mattingly, Charles M. Duke and John W. Young lost two hours of sleep because of the trouble and when they awoke at 11 a.m. EST they were told that the interference had been eliminated with a change in procedures.

"Now, you're talking," said Young. "That's the best news I've heard today."

The problem involved a gyroscope-controlled navigation platform suspended so that it can swivel freely regardless of the position of the spacecraft. The platform is aligned to star references and is supposed to retain this "fix" and provide a reference against which movements of the spacecraft can be measured.

But instead of moving freely, this crucial navigation device locked in one position, making it useless for navigation.

Guidance controller Gary Coen said there was nothing wrong with the inertial platform itself. It was told to "freeze" by the ship's main computer, which was confused by electrical interference during switching operations.

He said an all-out effort was underway by teams of engineers at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which designed the guidance and navigation system, to work up new procedures that would eliminate such interference for the rest of the 12-day mission. Apollo 16 has a backup guidance system that was not affected.

Extra profits hit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. estimated today that 10 per cent of the nation's largest companies are violating the law by collecting excessive profits.

But Grayson contended that the administration's goal of halving the rate of inflation is still attainable.

"We are on course," he told a hearing of Congress' Joint Economic Committee, where he ran into some sharply critical questioning.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., the committee chairman, said the wage-price control system has been a pathetic failure and the sooner we change it the better.

US keeping up air strikes, Laird says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. officials said today "everything is open" for U.S. air and naval power to do whatever is considered necessary to stop the North Vietnamese offensive of South Vietnam and to protect President Nixon's Vietnamization policy.

Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee this morning that U.S. air strikes were continuing in North Vietnam, as well as South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, "at this very moment."

Laird and other administration officials also specifically refused to rule out possible future strikes at Hanoi and Haiphong—targets of controversial weekend raids by American bombers.

In his testimony before the Foreign Relations Committee, Laird also said the U.S. naval buildup would continue as "absolutely essential and urgent" insurance to protect remaining American troops in South Vietnam.

Laird was subjected to close questioning by members of the committee who voted Monday in favor of cutting off U.S. financing of the war at the end of this year. He testified in a public session after appearing earlier in the morning at a private session of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

As for reports from Saigon that Nixon had ordered a halt to bombing of the Hanoi-Haiphong areas, Laird told reporters prior to his testimony that there was "no substance to such a report."

Another high administration official said, "What we will say is everything is open as clearly stated by Secretary Rogers—that we will do whatever is necessary to thwart invasion."

The Foreign Relations chairman, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., as he did on Monday while questioning Secretary of State William P. Rogers, was highly critical of U.S. Vietnam policy. He said in an opening statement:

"Apparently President Nixon

thinks he can accomplish with air power alone what his predecessor failed to accomplish with air power—and more than 500,000 American men."

Responding to questions by Fulbright, Laird said American commanders in Vietnam had the authority to order air attacks "below the DMZ (demilitarized zone), in the DMZ and above the DMZ," and he said those raids were continuing.

"The authority is there to develop as the tactical situation warrants," he said.

Laird said the North Vietnamese had "flagrantly" violated a 1968 agreement not to attack the South across the DMZ.

There, the North Vietnamese decision to violate the 1968 understanding—to move divisions across the DMZ—was something I could not explain and I will not try to give a reason to this committee for this violation, this flagrant violation," Laird said.

Both Rogers and a high administration source said, that no American ground troops would be re-introduced into South Vietnam.

Loyalty pledges upheld

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A sharply divided Supreme Court ruled 4 to 3 today that states can require employees to sign a broad loyalty oath opposing the overthrow of government by force, violence or illegal means.

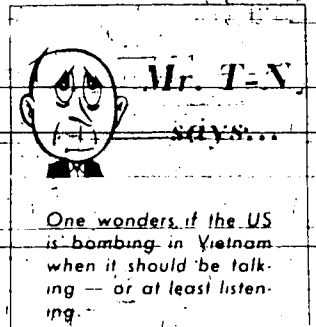

The decision upholding a Massachusetts oath seemingly represented a switch of direction by the Court which, in the past, has invalidated loyalty procedures in such states as Florida, Arizona, Maryland, New York and Washington.

The latter laws were struck down on grounds they required a state employee to swear he was not a member of the Communist party or similar organization.

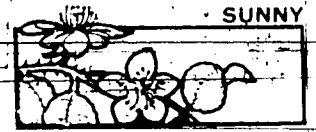

The Massachusetts oath was in two parts. The first pledged to uphold and defend the Constitution, which was approved by a lower federal court. The second, however, required the employee to swear he "opposes the overthrow of the government of the United States of America or of this commonwealth by force, violence or by any illegal or unconstitutional method."

The lower court had thrown this out as "hopelessly vague," but the Supreme Court's majority opinion by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger reinstated it.

Joining Burger in his opinion were Justices Potter Stewart, Byron R. White and Harry O. Blackmun.

Russians call off SALT meet

HELSINKI (UPI)—The Soviet Union canceled a planned meeting of the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) today because their chief delegate went to Moscow for consultations, Communist sources said.

Other sources said the cancellation had nothing to do with the fighting in Vietnam. Conference sources said after last Thursday's meeting that the SALT talks had been speeded up to try to reach an agreement to be announced during President Nixon's visit to Moscow in May.

The sources said the delegations are meeting at all levels. One group meeting was held today on a proposal to limit offensive and defensive nuclear arms. The main meeting is now scheduled for Thursday.

The Communist sources said Vladimir S. Semenov left for Moscow Saturday. He earlier refused an invitation from the Finnish Foreign Ministry to visit Lapland, telling the ministry that he would be working during the weekend.

Church hits Hanoi raid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Idaho Sen. Frank Church said Monday the end of U.S. participation in the Vietnam war is not in sight of the president's Vietnamization policy "means continued reliance on American planes and ships."

Church said, in reference to American bombing over Hanoi and Haiphong, "The bombing of North Vietnam didn't work for President Johnson and I see no reason why it should work for President Nixon."

2 US ships hit by Reds

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist gunfire killed two American sailors and wounded 16 off the coast of Vietnam Sunday and Monday, the U.S. command said today. Two ships were put out of action.

The U.S. command said coastal batteries hit the guided missile destroyer Buchanan on Monday, killing one sailor and wounding nine others, and knocked it out of the war temporarily. Communist fire of unknown origin hit the frigate Worden on Sunday, killing one sailor and wounding seven and causing it to withdraw.

Hanoi Radio said the Worden was hit off the port of Haiphong and the command said it was investigating reports it might have been hit by a motor torpedo boat. Radio Hanoi said today its forces had set five U.S. naval ships on fire, but this was not confirmed by Saigon.

Despite unusually heavy B52 and fighter-bomber strikes in South Vietnam the Communist widened their offensive and burned four refugee villages near the coastal city of Quang Ngai, 160 miles below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

Military sources said the Communists also had occupied all towns and villages in Binh Dinh Province north of An Loc, 60 miles north of Saigon. Fighting was reported three miles from An Loc today and the South Vietnamese commander predicted heavy Communist onslaughts against An Loc tonight or Wednesday.

Military sources said B52 strikes Monday a mile north of An Loc wiped out a North Vietnamese regiment of about 1,400 men in a quarter-mile wide bombing pattern.

The U.S. command said in the 24 hours ending at noon today some of the heaviest raids of the Indochina War were carried out. It said 20 B52 missions were flown over the South and 524 tactical air strikes were flown in the heaviest strikes since command records began in 1969.

Senior U.S. officials said they had no word of any bomb hit over North Vietnam. They said they would be "surprised" if there was a hit and hoped none had been called. They reported the weather over North Vietnam was clear, an indication new strikes might be carried out.

The war also blazed up today in Quang Tri Province, just below the Demilitarized Zone, and front dispatches said the Quang Tri combat base 10 miles below the DMZ and Artillery Base Pedro 12 miles to the southwest were hit today with at least 200 rounds of 130 millimeter artillery, the biggest in the North Vietnamese arsenal.

Other front dispatches said every South Vietnamese base in Kontum Province was shelled as usual today but that Tan Canh, headquarters of a South Vietnamese regiment, was hit by 105 mm artillery, indicating main Communist forces were drawing close. The Communists kept the An Khe Pass supply route blocked and ambushed a South Korean column, killing four men and knocking out two armored personnel carriers.

A front dispatch said the situation at Fire Base Bastogne, a key defense for the city of Hue, 12 miles to the northeast had eased today, apparently because the North Vietnamese were regrouping.

McGovern draws Gem Demos

BOISE (UPI)—Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S. D., Monday night captured a clean 45 per cent of caucusing Idaho Democrats assuring himself at least one-half of the party's 17 first-round votes at the national convention in July.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, gathered only 17 per cent of the support from the 4,000 Democrats who met in 35 legislative districts, despite an early endorsement by leading Idaho Democrats Sen. Frank Church and Gov. Cecil D. Andrus.

About 25 per cent, or 107 of the 425 delegates to the state convention in Sun Valley June 18-17 elected to go on an uncommitted basis. The same percentage will go to the national convention uncommitted.

New York Rep. Shirley Chisholm and Sen. Hubert Humphrey took five per cent each and will be represented at the state convention. Alabama Gov. George Wallace and Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington came up with one per cent of the vote.

McGovern, who brought several representatives into the state to prepare for the state-wide caucus, jumped to an early lead as districts phoned results into the party headquarters in Boise. Throughout the five hours of tabulations, McGovern stayed with between 46 and 48 per cent of the delegates.

Democrats did not show any support for Sam Yorty, Eugene McCarthy, Wilbur Mills or Terry Sanford, but Patsy Mink, who did not appear on an official list of 10 candidates, won a delegate to the state convention. This was the first time the state's Democrats caucused in the legislative district form, and leading party members applauded the participation among the young and females.

"This is the next best thing to a primary," state Democratic Executive Secretary Nolan W. Hancock said. He said the new procedure, which allows party members to participate in the caucuses by merely signing a pledge card, would bring the Democratic selection of delegates back to the "grass roots."

Monday night caucuses met throughout the state and voted for candidates and then broke into smaller groups depending on the initial votes and decided who the delegates would be to the state convention.

State party chairman Joe McCarter, Corral, told newsmen the new procedure "was the greatest thing that ever happened to the Democrats in Idaho."

One of the reasons McGovern won the most delegates was he had worked the hardest in the state, he said.

Andrus said late Monday night "that I am not the wavering type" and said he would stick with Muskie. The governor said when he made his endorsement of Muskie earlier in the year there were only two possible candidates and how there were "three and possibly four" in the race.

"There will be lots of activity," he said of the upcoming primaries.

Hancock said the percentage of young persons participating in the caucuses was running as high as 40 to 50 per cent and 60 per cent was estimated in district 18 in south Boise.

Valley Democrats show liking for McGovern

Magic Valley Democrats showed a strong preference Monday for the presidential candidacy of Sen. George McGovern, D-S. D. Democrats meeting in legislative district caucuses Monday night selected more delegates pledged to support McGovern than delegates for all other candidates combined.

Despite McGovern's strong showing, more than half of the valley's delegates remained uncommitted.

Of 55 delegates chosen to go to the June 18 state delegate selection caucus at Sun Valley, 14 were committed to McGovern. Candidate Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Me., came in a poor second with six committed delegates. Far behind, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., drew only two delegates, Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., and Alabama Gov. George Wallace each drew one committed delegate. Thirty-one delegates remained uncommitted.

The breakdown of delegate strength, by legislative district:

Dist. 21 (Blaine, Minidoka and part of Lincoln County): McGovern, five; Muskie, three and uncommitted, three.

Dist. 23 (Jerome, Gooding and part of Lincoln County): McGovern, two; Muskie, one; Wallace, one; Humphrey, one; and uncommitted, nine.

Dist. 24 (Western Twin Falls County): McGovern, one; Muskie, one; and uncommitted, eight.

Dist. 25 (Eastern Twin Falls County, including the eastern two-thirds of Twin Falls): McGovern, four; Muskie, one; and uncommitted, six.

Dist. 26 (Cassia County): McGovern, two; Jackson, one; Humphrey, one; and uncommitted, five.

Muskie says Nixon broke promises

By United Press International
Charging President Nixon has broken his promise to end the Indochina war, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie has said he will pull all U.S. forces out of the war within 60 days if he is elected President.

Muskie and a rival for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. George S. McGovern, criticized administration war moves in campaign appearances Monday.

Muskie, in an address at a Washington fund-raising dinner, said his only condition for ending the war would be the release of American prisoners and an accounting by the Communists for men missing in action. He announced he would broadcast a major speech on the war on Pennsylvania television stations tonight. The Pennsylvania primary is scheduled one week from today.

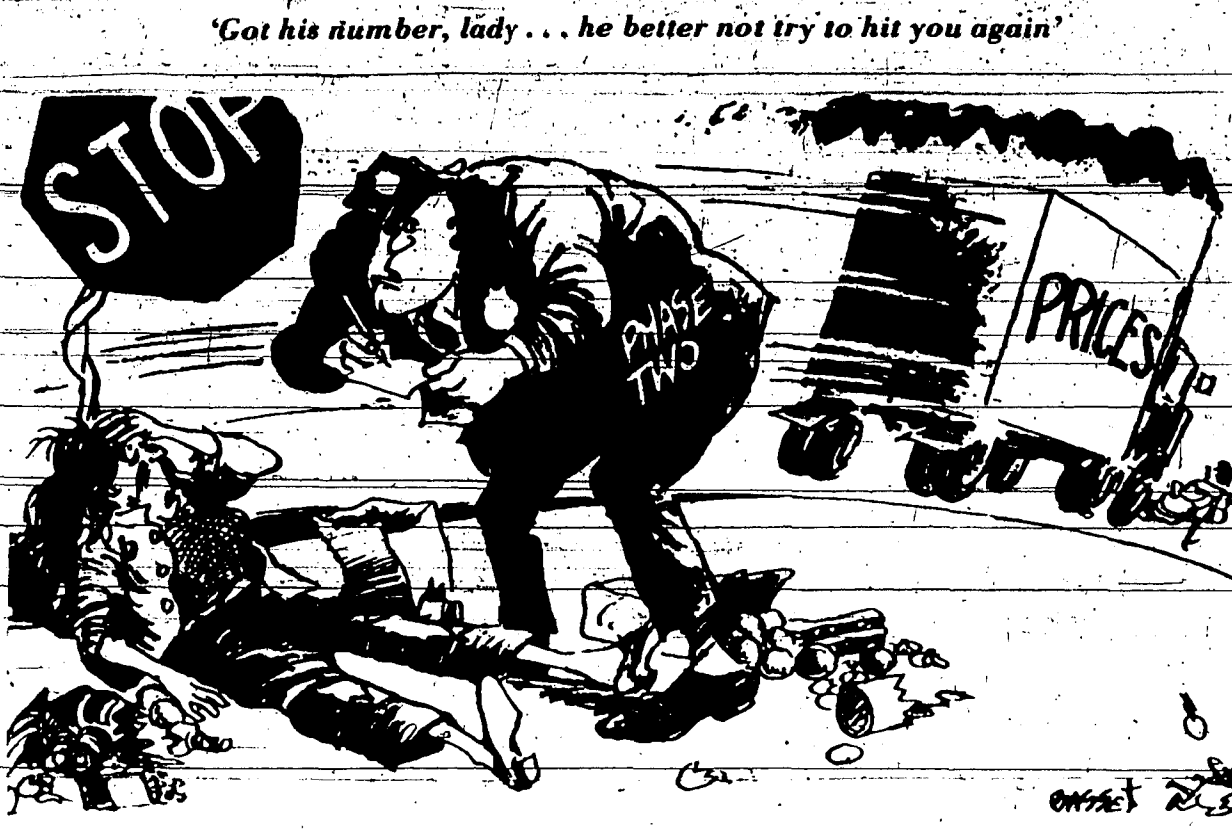

McGovern, campaigning in Massachusetts which also will hold its primary April 25, promised a quick and total withdrawal of American forces from Southeast Asia. He predicted expanded U.S. bombing of North Vietnam would move the Communists away from the peace table.

"If anything," McGovern said, "the stepped up bombing will only serve to whittle the will of the Viet Cong in the same way as continued Nazi raids over England united the British in World War II."

In other political developments:

—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Muskie's main foe in the Pennsylvania primary, pledged he would propose a total overhaul of the federal tax system within the first 100 days of his administration if he is elected President. Al Philadelphia, Humphrey charged income tax forms "make crooks out of taxpayers" and are so complicated "it takes a college degree" to fill them out.

Senator approves bombing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., said Monday he approves the bombing of targets in North Vietnam, reminding newsmen that six years ago he advocated using U.S. air power to "seal off" the Port of Haiphong.

Jackson, campaigning extensively in Ohio prior to the May 2 presidential primary, said he supports "such bombing as is necessary to stabilize the military situation...so as to enable us to continue our withdrawal and bring our prisoners home."

War protesters renew offensive

By United Press International
Demonstrators renewed their offensive against the Vietnam war today and Monday, hurling rocks at campus buildings, occupying congressional offices and military installations, unfurling banners in a courtroom and marching in cities from San Francisco to New York. Riot-equipped state troopers put down a brief antiwar demonstration at the University of Maryland, College Park, early today, arresting two participants. Some 200 students marched on the chancellor's residence chanting slogans and hurling rocks at campus buildings shortly after an appearance of the world champion Chinese table tennis team. No injuries were reported.

TF seniors appeal for center funds

BY BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Senior citizens of Twin Falls appealed to the City Council Monday night for $5,000 to help establish a recreation and education center here.

Jack Carlton, Social Security agency, and Robert Hale, Senior Citizen agency, said there is a need for a permanent facility in Twin Falls where senior citizens may obtain recreation, attend special arts and crafts classes or otherwise meet for services available to them.

To obtain such a center, Carlton said, a budget of $10,000 is needed. He said federal funds would provide half of this on a matching basis if $5,000 can be provided in the community.

Carlton said plans call for much of the work on a volunteer basis. A driver would be hired to operate bus transportation for the users and to serve as a part-time cook in helping prepare meals for those wishing to eat at the center.

By establishing a permanent center, Hale said, duplication of services could be eliminated but rental costs in Twin Falls are extremely high. They are beyond the means of the Office of Economic Opportunity, under which the Senior Citizen agency is funded.

Howard Burkhardt, former council member active in the Senior Citizen organization, complimented the city on the fine youth programs it provides, but said similar services are deserved by retired persons who helped make the community prosperous during their productive years but are now too often forgotten.

Carlton said other plans of the center program once it is established could include providing a job placement program to provide part-time employees for the community and part-time work for retired persons; showing educational films and conducting workshops on such subjects as probate of estates, income tax filing, and handicrafts.

The center would maintain a bus to bring those without transportation to the center and to provide recreational, short trips for those interested.

Mayor John Christoffersen said the city could not provide the money under the current budget which is already approved and adopted by law, but could consider it for the 1973 budget in January.

Senior Citizen agency officials said if they have some type of commitment indicating the city may be able to provide the $5,000 the federal application can be filed and Twin Falls participation would not be necessary until January.

Council members agreed to give the request full consideration.

TWIN FALLS — W. E. (Bud) Davis, president of Idaho State University, will be speaker at the College of Southern Idaho commencement on May 14.

Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, announced the speaker at Monday night's meeting.

He said the college expects to occupy the new vocational education classroom building on campus on May 4. An open house at the new facility will be planned in conjunction with commencement.

Fees reconsidered

TWIN FALLS — Mayor John Christoffersen said today the city has decided to reconsider proposed irrigation district fees for citizens using ditch water.

He said full consideration has been given protests voiced two weeks ago on proposed fees.

Persons owning large lots or acreages will have to be given a reduced rate, the council has found, Christoffersen said. Persons where additional charges for water represent a hardship will also be given further consideration, he advised. Widows who are exempt from paying property tax or others on low incomes will be given every possible assistance, he said.

Mayor Christoffersen advised the city manager to notify persons petitioning for withdrawal from the city irrigation system of new plans in case they wish to reconsider their petitions.

TF council okays plan for prisoner custody

TWIN FALLS — A proposed agreement with Twin Falls County for prisoner custody during the year beginning May 1 was approved by the City Council Monday night.

It will be submitted to the county commission for its approval. City Manager Jean Millar said there is no change for the present agreement except in administration. It was recommended the city deal directly with the sheriff's office in payment for meals, Millar said. Previously, financial arrangements were handled through the county commissioners and clerk.

In other business the council authorized the mayor and clerk to sign a corrected lease with the U.S. Air Force for the Civil Air Patrol facilities at the airport. The lease is for $4 per square foot of space or $1,280 per year.

The mayor and clerk were also authorized to sign a lease agreement for 600 shares of city owned stock in the Twin Falls

Canal Co. Ed Uhlig, Hansen, is leasing the water the city no longer needs because of the new water system and source.

Approval was given the Downtowners organization for a bedding plant sale on the closed portion of the street between the Idaho Department Store and J. C. Penney Co. May 5 and 6.

A bid from Twin Falls Construction Co. in the amount of $41,780 for gravel to supply the city's street program was approved.

Executive session held over teacher contract

TWIN FALLS — College of Southern Idaho trustees went into executive session Monday night to discuss a personnel problem.

The closed session apparently revolved around a teacher who was not offered a contract for the 1972-73 school year.

Mrs. Terrill Castaneda told the Times-News following her hearing with the trustees that she was not told she would not be offered a contract until after the Dec. 15 deadline suggested in American Association of University Professors (AAUP) guidelines.

The guidelines recommend this date for instructors who have been at an institution two years and a March deadline is recommended for those who have spent only one year at a college.

Mrs. Castaneda, who appeared with a counseling member of the AAUP, declined to say when she was notified she would not be offered a contract.

She said this factor involves one of her appeals to the board.

Trustees indicated to Mrs. Castaneda following her hearing that no decision would be reached until a future board meeting.

The instructor has been at CSI since the 1970-71 school year and teaches French, English and English as a foreign language.

CSI board executive sessions are rare.

Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, told news media prior to going into special session that the meeting would involve a teacher who was not rehired.

Mrs. Castaneda said she believes she is the first CSI instructor to ask for a hearing on the school's failure to offer a contract.

During the board's regular session, Dr. Taylor said Monday was the last day for returning teachers to return contracts.

He said personnel matters, including hiring of new personnel, will come up at the next regular board meeting.

State funds given

TWIN FALLS — Jean Millar, city manager, announced today the city and county have received $30,000 through the Department of Aeronautics for airport improvements here.

He said the money is earmarked for improvement of taxi ways, apron improvement and instrument landing system, and is in addition to the federal and local money for the project.

A delegation from the Twin Falls Airport Commission, city and county boards met with the Department of Aeronautics last week to follow up on their application for $50,000.

Councilman Winston Jones said the airport and city officials are well satisfied with the $30,000 as their share of "State funds." It will help in the improvement program planned for this year. Forms to be signed by the city covering the grant agreement must be returned to Director of Aeronautics Darrell Manning by May 15, Millar said.

The city and county will be spending about $110,000 this year on the project plus federal and state funds.

CSI approves bid

TWIN FALLS — College of Southern Idaho trustees Monday night approved a low bid of $7,537.20 to replace glass broken at the multi-use building earlier this month.

Estimates of damage caused when rocks were thrown through the windows had been placed at about $20,000, but Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, said a later estimate indicated damage was between $13,000 and $17,000.

The lower figure submitted by Buhl Glass and Paint Co. represents replacement after salvage of parts of the broken windows.

Because of the emergency nature of replacing the glass, the college did not advertise for bids, but Robert Alexander, CSI attorney, said bids were gathered from all known sources.

Dr. Taylor said the reward fund leading to arrest and conviction of those responsible for the damage now stands at $1,000. The student association is offering $500; the insurance underwriters, $200; the Eagle Boosters, $200; and the dormitory and housing commission, $100.

A fund to help defray expense of replacing the glass now amounts to $550, he said. The Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. has provided $500 and Joe Hackney has contributed $50.

LINVILLE FALLS, N.C. (UPI)—Two of the three federally-designated wilderness areas east of the Mississippi River created by the Wilderness Act of 1964 are located in North Carolina, the Linville Gorge and Shining Rock.

Lease plan approved

TWIN FALLS — Meeting in regular session Monday night, College of Southern Idaho trustees approved a lease agreement for an additional building for vocational education.

The building, on Eastland Drive, will be used for a cluster concept of vocational education, primarily in the electrical appliance field.

In other action, Dr. James L. Taylor, CSI president, reported a decision to expand CSI vocational program into the food service area. This will be accomplished by CSI taking over operation of the kitchen and dining room in the multi-use building.

Students will be trained as waitresses, bus boys, pantry work, pots and pans, fry cooks and chefs.

Dr. Taylor said one of the first steps in establishing the program will be to set up an advisory committee of people directly involved in food service.

Tough On Pirates

An Indonesian pilot, forced by a hijacker to land at Jogjakarta, shot and killed the hijacker in one of the recent piracy episodes.

Two alleged American skyjackers were quickly captured. One parachuted from a commandeered airplane with half a million dollars ransom, all except $30 being recovered. Richard F. McCoy, Jr. of Provo, Utah, was arrested and charged with the crime. Nabbed in San Diego in an alleged copy-cat attempt to collect parachutes and half a million dollars ransom Stanley H. Speck, of San Francisco, was held without bail pending a sanity hearing April 21.

Air piracy, whether for political purposes or extortion, is a threat to the community at large and must be stopped.

Heroes like the Indonesian pilot and President J. Floyd Andrews of Pacific Southwest Airlines, who helped collar the alleged extortionist when he came down the ramp at San Diego to collect maps for a flight to Miami, deserve the thanks of every air traveler.

Submission to extortion only invites more attempts. Quick and deadly reaction will bring its timely end.

The 747

The darn things are really just too big to get off the ground. But they have, in more ways than one.

Since the first Boeing 747 took off on a commercial flight on Jan. 21, 1970, the jumbo jets have piled up a perfect safety record while carrying more than 19 million passengers more than 270 million miles.

Actuarial experts predicted three 747 crashes within the first 18 months of operation. But only one has been lost, and that was blown up at Cairo airport by Palestinian terrorists.

Lloyds of London has lowered insurance rates on the plane by approximately 15 per cent.

In other money terms, total sales of the 747 have amounted to $3.6 billion, of which — by the end of 1972 — $1.3 billion will have been in export sales to other countries.

Building the aircraft has provided jobs for about 18,000 persons. Some 150 747s are routinely servicing 75 cities and have brought more than $90 million in commissions to travel agents. Surveys show that both pleasure and business travelers prefer the 747 over other planes and will wait to get a seat on it.

Those Primaries

Political primaries do make a difference. In the most recent Gallup Poll, Humphrey has moved ahead of Muskie nationwide.

If nothing else, primaries reveal whether a man is emotionally suited for the top job.

In the days when American politicking was more dignified, more constrained, public political meetings were unlikely to embarrass anybody.

During those days, you and I were aghast at the systematic heckling which British politicians tolerated, even encouraged. Such was unheard of here.

I traveled with Sir Winston Churchill during one of his last re-election campaigns and was properly awed by his semantical swordsmanship. After he had verbally manhandled each heckler, it was Churchill who was applauded — frequently by the heckler.

In recent elections American audiences have presented a clumsy imitation of that system — more rude, more ruthless.

Now we see some audiences of college-agers turn their backs on a speaker or shout him or throw things.

This unfortunate evolution in reverse has only one conceivable fringe benefit. It does demonstrate which suitors possess the greatest degree of emotional stability and self-discipline.

It is by this measure that Sen. Muskie appears wanting. He stumbled in New Hampshire and fell flat in Florida and each time has been tripped by his own emotions.

Four years ago Muskie looked and sounded so good as a vice-presidential candidate that many pundits deduced that the Humphrey-Muskie ticket, reversed, would have won.

Yet here we have the newest Gallup Poll indicating that nationwide Humphrey leads Muskie again.

In show business — in "other facets" of show business — they say Muskie is a good "second banana" but not sufficiently strong for a leading role.

A New Hampshire challenge had Muskie in tears; the Florida defeat had him angrily blaming the "demagoguery" of Wallace — though Muskie, in Florida, was also beaten by several other fellows.

Subjected to the vilification that tough George Wallace has endured, most candidates would collapse.

Humphrey is quick to anger but quick to cool.

Primaries serve other purposes, also.

In the crucible of primary campaigning, the Yortys and the Lindsays and the Jacksons discover that they lack a national dimension.

ROBERT ALLEN

Russian Troops

WASHINGTON — Russian troops are directly participating in the all-out Communist invasion of South Vietnam.

From emplacements and other positions in North Vietnam, Soviet technicians and specialists are directing and manning a variety of key weapons and facilities, foremost among them.

SAM83 and other anti-aircraft missiles and armaments being employed in profuse numbers against U.S. bombers and fighters. Some of these Russian-manned AA installations have been top U.S. targets.

Long-range artillery batteries which have dueling with U.S. warships shelling enemy supply lines and other military targets.

Radar and communications installations and networks, major targets of B-2 and F-4 Phantom fighter-bomber attacks.

Intelligence estimates the number of Soviet military personnel now active in North Vietnam at "more than 3,000," of which about 10 per cent are officers.

Significantly, most of these specialist elements came from India — where they secretly assisted the Indian army in the brief but intense fighting with Pakistan. The Russians functioned there in the same way they are in North Vietnam — and just as covertly.

Direct Soviet troop participation in the warring against Pakistan came to light after the decisive victory.

end of the fighting. India still hasn't admitted it.

One of the decisive factors that prompted President Nixon to resume air attacks in North Vietnam was the disclosure that Russians are actively taking part in the Communists' "go-for-broke" offensive to destroy the South Vietnamese army and overthrow the Thieu government.

The operations of the Soviet specialists are in addition to the immense quantities of tanks, guns, armored and other vehicles of all kinds, munitions and other combat supplies Russia has poured into North Vietnam.

The vast Communist assault on South Vietnam is virtually wholly Russian equipped and provisioned.

Intelligence estimates the cost of these huge armaments at more than $2 billion.

Documents captured during the fierce fighting in the central highlands reveal that a principal aim of the Communists is to intensify U.S. disaffection and hostility against the long-drawn-out war.

One paper found on a Communist commander stressed this objective, saying "the American masses are against this immoral and illegal war. They want it stopped and U.S. troops withdrawn from Vietnam. But the capitalist and military rulers are violently resisting that and they must be overthrown. They are desperately on the defensive and this is the time for a on to the Roosevelts and Tafts.

Both Bobby and Ted Kennedy reached the Senate largely on the strength of their surname.

And let's face it. If the Democrats nominate any one of the present contenders they will need all the glamor they can hire.

Sens. George McGovern, Ed Muskie, Hubert Humphrey and Henry Jackson are all good guys, but females do not faint joyously in their presence, nor strong men shake down thunder from the sky. There would be required for any of these candidates a touch of the Beautiful People syndrome, a hint of the made-up life style, with thin jeans, overtones.

Young Joe is not to be confused with 18-year-old Robert Jr., who was once charged with possessing marijuana. He is square in the sense he has never been in trouble, except perhaps with school teachers. These days, he works for the John F. Kennedy Foundation in so-called "deprived" areas, fighting discrimination against blacks and Indians and juvenile delinquency. In that job, he lives "in the field" with poor folks, which is not the worst way to acquire political muscle, especially in an age when citizens who make it on their own are considered sinful.

Joe wears faded jeans and boots that are often caked with mud even in his office here; admirers claim that on him the unkempt looks good. Two journalistic visitors, Vera Glaser and Malvina Stephenson of the Knight Newspapers, reported that his reception room is hung with posters of Red Chinese boss Mao Tse-tung and Cesar Chavez, the migrant farm worker.

Well, a little something for everybody. Young Joe also looks superb in dinner clothes, and he wowed a mob at a recent Democratic fund-raising dinner when he appeared with Uncle Ted pressing every available piece of flesh. Ted Kennedy calls him the best politician in the family.

One little artifact in Joe's office may give the Republicans hope, however. It is a scrap of memo paper tacked over his desk that reads: "A king was born on Sept. 24, 1952." That, of course, is the day Young Joe was born, and the opposition might be able to persuade the electorate that even for a Kennedy such a dynastic pretension is a bit much.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Kiddie Lib

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What do you think of making young children eat all on their plate, some things they say they don't like?

They have to clean up the plate even if it takes a whipping, and the children trying to vomit.

Will this harm their digestion or ruin their stomachs for later years? How long should they have to stay at the table to finish a meal? K.D.

Forcing children to eat or "clean up the plate" is ignorant and brutal.

O course, I don't mean that youngsters should be allowed to pick at their food at the table and then fill up between meals on sweets or other junk.

Folks who whip or otherwise force children to eat should examine their own motives. Do they do it because it is really "good for you"? If so, how? Or do they do it because they are angry people who insist on showing who's boss?

With all the "lib" movements these days, maybe we need a "children's lib" for some cases.

Dear Doctor: I am 10 years old and have a pet turtle. I have heard that turtles carry diseases. Is this true? What causes the disease? How do you tell if you have it? What is the treatment? — J.C.

Turtles are likely to carry a germ called salmonella, the germ that causes most of the outbreaks of "food poisoning."

Cramps, loose bowels, feeling miserable. — Best rule, if you have a turtle, is to wash your hands thoroughly after playing with it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I've had my tubes tied since my last child was born almost six years ago. Now that I've remarried, I'd like to have another child. Is there any chance the tubes can be repaired? — G.B.G.

Sometimes they can, sometimes they can't and there isn't much you can do except try it and find out. In fact, there isn't anything else you can do.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I went to a practitioner for back pain, and also told him I thought I was allergic to something, possibly a food substance. He told me if it was food all I have to do is hold the food in my hand, and with a machine, he can determine if I am allergic to it or not. Is this possible? — L.L.

Would that it were! But no such simple determination of food allergy is possible. Steer clear of that fellow!

MR. SPECTATOR

A Cook Book

Mrs. Harry (Lesley) Benoit, one of the few who have lived in Twin Falls ever since the first year the town started, is the owner of a rather interesting cookbook.

It is not only interesting because she still uses some of the recipes but it is also interesting because it was put out in 1908 by the Ladies of the Episcopal Guild in Twin Falls and contains many advertisements of firms long gone.

Well, we take that back, because some of the advertisers are still around. For instance, there was the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co., which, at that time, had a capital of $100,000. Just think of it! And they also loaned money on improved farms and paid interest on time deposits.

Then some who are no longer here: The Twin Falls Meat Co. which featured fish and oysters; Burton E. Morse, the architect; Henry J. Wall, who dealt in abstracts; The Twin Falls News which offered a subscription for $2 a year; the Irrigated Lands Co. in the left wing of the Perrine Hotel; The Famous Shoe Store with T. M. French, proprietor; The Bedford Drug Co.; The Weeter Lumber Co.; the Twin Falls Livery and Feed Barn, operated by Galliher and Sons.; Hill and Taylor, real estate and rentals; the C. Harder Bakery Co.; the Liberal Cigar Store and the Hotel Perrine with E. B. Williams (Mrs. Benoit's late father) as manager; the T. and K. Milling Co. of Kimberly; The Commercial Savings Bank and the First National Bank of Twin Falls; The Great Shoshone and Twin Falls Water Power Co.; H.E. Hunt and Co. and L. J. Miller, the town's two undertakers in competition; Dr. Frank F. McAtee and Dr. G.F. Baker, two dentists; P. H. Hall, contractor and builder; and Woods and Thomas, real estate.

One of the more exciting advertisements was placed by Glenn P. McKinley, an attorney with offices in the Commercial and Savings Bank Building.

His advertisement said: "If your husband kicks about the biscuits, see me for a divorce."

And then there was the Idaho Department Store — still around but with a different offering. Back in 1908 the Idaho Department advertisement stated that to make the recipes in the book work, you needed the best of materials and you could get these at the store — including spices, extracts, peels, baking powder and molasses. In fact, they said everything they sold conformed to the pure food laws of the country. And a fellow by the name of George B. Banta was the general manager.

So there you have it so far as the "ads" are concerned. The recipes were donated for the cause by the "big names" of those days including Mrs. T. F. Mitchell, Mrs. E. White, Mrs. G. B. Sierer, Mrs. C. O. Meig, Mrs. H. J. Wall, Mrs. Arthur Mullins, Mrs. C. W. Dyer, Mrs. John E. Hayes, Mrs. R. M. McCollum, Mrs. S. T. Hamilton, Mrs. Homer Craven, Mrs. O. A. Stalker, Mrs. Augusta Clouche, Mrs. H. W. Bond, Mrs. C. A. Tush, Mrs. H. Seebeck, Mrs. John Hansen and Mrs. Carrie Hansen, both of Rock Creek; Mrs. E. B. Williams, Mrs. M. J. Sweeley, Mrs. W. H. Greenhow, Mrs. Stuart Taylor, Elva McCollum and Mrs. H. F. Allen.

And Mr. Spectator must point out that Mrs. Benoit's cook book has been used for a long time — would you believe 64 years?

N.C. fire takes life

JACKSONVILLE, N. C. (UPI)—A two-mile wide sheet of flame that has blackened more than 17,000 acres of woods, claiming one life, continued to burn today, though firefighters reported fire lines were completed around the blaze. Winds had decreased to a steady calm this morning, but they were expected to pick up again this afternoon.

Three zones have three candidates each. In zone 1, school board Chairman John Wolfe will be challenged by Kenneth L. Hodge and former board member Frank DeLuca. In zone 3 incumbent trustee Mrs. Ruth Day faces opposition from Mrs. Frankie Lou Hale and Scott Erwin. Zone 4 will see a test for newly appointed board member Tom Kiely. He faces Dr. Marvin Stroppe and Dr. Kenneth R. Briggs.

In office only two weeks, Richard Sayers will be challenged by Gary Custer in zone 2.

Board vice chairman Dr. Howard Ronk's zone 5 post will be contested by Mrs. Marjorie Slotten.

School District Clerk J. T. Anderson said voters may cast ballots in any of the five polling places but must vote for a candidate from the zone in which the voter resides.

Polling places will be open from noon to 5 p.m. on May 5. Trustees from zones 3 and 4 will be elected for two-year terms, zones 2 and 5 for three-year terms and zone 1 for a single-year term.

Elections for all five positions came about after district patrons voted to alter the zone boundaries. After approval of the change, two of the new zones had two trustees each and two zones had no trustees. Subsequent elections will see only one or two trustees elected at staggered intervals, Anderson said.

License time

TWIN FALLS — Dog licenses in Twin Falls will expire April 30. City Clerk, Edythe Koontz reminded dog owners today. She said canine fanciers who wish to take part in the bargain prices may license male and spayed female dogs at $2 each until July 1, after which the fee goes up to $4 and $8.

Free service plan proposed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government proposed regulations today that would require about 4,000 hospitals and nursing homes which have received federal construction funds since 1946 to provide minimum amounts of free service to the poor.

Hospitals which refuse to offer such charity service could lose their federal aid or even their operating licenses, according to a spokesman for the Health, Education and Welfare Department which made the proposal.

Legion unit elects area officers

GLENN'S FERRY — Mrs. Lyle Hupfer, Fairfield, was elected fourth district president of the American Legion Auxiliary Sunday.

The convention was held at the Veterans Memorial Hall in Glenn's Ferry. Other officers include Mrs. Dwight Wilcher, Jerome, first vice president; Mrs. Lois Jepson, Jerome, second vice president; Mrs. Clifford Noxon, Ketchum, chaplain; Mrs. Donald Cox, Fairfield, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Arthur Greer, King Hill, historian.

Mrs. Frank Thomas, Malad, state department president, installed officers and urged members to write their congressmen to reinstate Nov. 11 as Veterans Day.

Mrs. Gene Halstrom, Weiser, department first vice president, spoke on membership. She said Idaho is close to reaching its goal for 1972. Mrs. Herbert Grischkowski, American Falls, department unit activities chairman, also spoke.

The session closed with a banquet with the legion members at which Elton Ashton, Malad, department commander, and Gene Halstrom, Weiser, department first vice commander, spoke. Arthur Greer, King Hill, gave a reading.

The proposed rules, which allow 30 days for comment before taking effect, would require that nonprofit hospitals and nursing homes receiving aid under the Hill-Burton Act make available on request free services at a level not less than 5 per cent of their operating cost or 25 per cent of their net income.

Under the Hill-Burton Act, a hospital is now required to provide "a reasonable volume of services for persons unable to pay."

State Hill-Burton agencies would be responsible for enforcing the new rules if they are adopted. If a state finds that a hospital is not meeting the standard, it could take several actions including termination of aid, filing court suits against hospitals or license revocation, said HEW spokesman Frank Acosta. Hospitals in turn could appeal to the HEW secretary.

"If we are not satisfied with state actions, we can take action to cut off Hill-Burton funds for a whole state," Acosta said.

24 arrests result from TF burglaries, larcenies

TWIN FALLS — Twenty-four arrests have been made or will be made by Twin Falls police in connection with burglaries, petit and grand larcenies here since Jan. 1.

Capt. Tim Qualls, chief of detectives for police department, said the subjects range in age from 8 to 18 years and are being taken into custody as a result of a lengthy investigation by his department.

The arrests will clear up 16 first degree burglaries, he said, in addition to two grand larceny and one petit larceny cases.

Several of the young men have been arrested and questioned and warrants issued for the others, Capt. Qualls said. The juveniles will be petitioned into court, he said, and the 18-year-olds arraigned on charges as adults.

Qualls said about $2,000 in merchandise has been recovered and about the same amount is still missing and the cash taken in the various burglaries has not been recovered, he said.

Qualls said names of the 18-year-olds will be released when arrests are complete.

Burglaries involved include the Husky Service Station, Feb. 7 and March 23, with one of the arrests involving an employee alleged to have aided; West Five Points Sporting Goods, March 3; Sound Limited, Feb. 23 and 18; an attempted burglary at the Pepsi Cola Co.'s grand larceny involving a stolen vehicle March 11 and grand larceny of a motorcycle which was stripped at about that time; burglary of the Jack Mulhoney home in which a bicycle was taken a week ago; the burglary of a machine shop of Duane Hansen on Harrison Street, and several automobile burglaries in which stereo equipment and tapes were taken, some this past weekend.

Idaho is called the Gem State.

TF 'Evening of Opera' displays musical talent

By CRAIG & MARGIE MORRIS
TWIN FALLS — Those who attended "An Evening of Opera" by the Twin Falls Music Club Monday night were treated to an extraordinary display of musical talent.

The program, a series of excerpts from both little and well-known operas, was performed with care and obvious affection by Marty Mead, Mary Walker, Jay Fowles and Roger Vincent.

A quartet from Arthur Benjamin's comic opera, "Prima Donna," was performed with great skill and lightness of touch to open the program. In two excerpts from Puccini's "La Boheme," Fowles showed himself to be a talented and disciplined musician, and Mrs. Walker's professionalism was obvious in her near-perfect interpretation of Mimì's awakening.

Marty Mead's lilting soprano was presented to good advantage in Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Telephone," and it blended beautifully with Mrs. Walker's in the delicate "Flowers" aria from Puccini's "Madame Butterfly."

Roger Vincent's first solo from Massenet's "Herodias" was sung competently but without emotion, possibly due in part to the uncomfortable French in which the opera is written.

The program was narrated by Elsie Vaughn, who provided background and story line for each of the songs, which allowed the audience to put each piece in proper context and thus appreciate it more. Her approach was light and humorous but respectful, with an aim of dispelling the aura of "stiffness" which too often surrounds operatic performances.

As promised by Mrs. Vaughn, the high point of the evening was "A Hand of Bridge" by Samuel Barber and Gian-Carlo Menotti. It was a quartet sung by four people seated around a bridge table, apparently intent on the game but actually deeply involved in their own thoughts.

The splendors and subtle nuances of opera were condensed on stage by four talented performers, Mrs. Vaughn and Margaret Vincent, a most able accompanist. Every week should be National Music Week if the Twin Falls Music Club presents programs like "An Evening of Opera."

Meany will fight settlement plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—APL-GIO President George Meany said today proposals to give the White House power to force settlements in transportation labor disputes are "anti-labor measures masquerading as public interest legislation and we intend to fight them with all the strength at our command."

The essential question raised by these proposals, Meany told the Senate labor subcommittee, "is whether the government should be granted the authority to fix wages, hours and working conditions for employees even in privately owned sectors of the economy through some form of compulsory arbitration.

Andrus dismisses Sharp

BOISE (UPI) — There was a shakeup on the Idaho Board of Health Monday as Gov. Cecil D. Andrus removed Chairman Dr. Merrill Sharp, Pocatello, and replaced him, with insurance agent John Squires, also of Pocatello.

Sharp's dismissal and Squires' appointment are effective immediately.

Andrus told Sharp of his replacement in a letter. He said the decision was based on the contents of a news release Sharp issued in March which was critical of the health department reorganization approved by the 1972 legislature.

After studying the release Andrus said in the letter "I feel your ability to further contribute to public health in Idaho has been severely hampered."

Both houses approved and Andrus signed into law a bill creating a Department of Environmental Protection and Health effective July 1.

The reorganization provides for a health administrator appointed by the governor, rather than the Board of Health, and increases membership on the health board from five to seven with each governor allowed to appoint a majority of the board. In Sharp's March 17 news release he said the Board of Health had taken a "unanimous stand" against "plunging the department of health into politics."

He said the reorganization "could return us to the old political spoils system, with public health at the mercy of whichever political party is in power at the moment."

However, Andrus' press secretary John Hough said he contacted one board member whom he did not identify and was informed the decision was not a unanimous one.

Sharp responded to Andrus saying "he apparently wants a weak board which will rubber stamp his wishes and an administrator directly responsible to his political desires."

"It would seem he is attempting to build a strong personal control over every aspect of state government. He has direct control over the department of public assistance," Sharp said.

"I think it is the wrong direction to go. A wise governor might not abuse this power, but another might."

He said his dismissal came as a surprise and he noted he "wanted to make it clear" that board complaints have been over the underfunding of the Department of Health by the legislature.

"The board has had no problems with Andrus as far as I know. We have cooperated with him very well—I think we have bended over backwards to cooperate with him."

"It is true we have had frustration with the lack of money."

He did say board members, however, had discussed resigning because of the health department reorganization, but decided to stay on because of the "turmoil in the splitting up of the Health Department."

Squires, a former Republican member of the Idaho House of Representatives, will take his place on the board when it meets Wednesday in Boise.

Still to be filled is the position left vacant with the resignation of former Chairman Fred Humphreys, Boise.

Hough said a replacement will be named in the near future.

Social injustice correction asked

ATLANTA (UPI) — Blacks have urged delegates to the United Methodist Church's general conference to deal first with minority groups before attempting a major restructuring of the denomination.

The Black Methodists for Church Renewal called for an all-out effort to correct social injustice, to give blacks and other minorities representation in church and society and to spend less time "tinkering and oiling your own machinery."

The group represents some 500,000 black Methodist church members. They made their pitch at the first day of business sessions in the two-week legislative session of the conference which claims 11 million Methodists in 86 nations.

The Rev. Gilbert H. Caldwell of New York, chairman of the Black Methodists for Church Renewal, urged the church to "recognize that in black people, it has a vast resource."

Caldwell had to win a lengthy parliamentary battle over whether he could address the 1,000 delegates before his proposals went to a committee.

"When is the power of God going to grab us as Robert's Rules of Order has?" Caldwell spoke out in the parliamentary battle and confusion before he got the floor.

"It is so easy to be deceived into believing that because you see more black people in places where you have not seen them previously, this is an indication of progress," Caldwell said. "This is not so."

"Individually successes have had no effect on the masses. The Harlems and Newarks all remain the same and with them perpetual despair."

The black presentation came before delegates opened debate on a plan to consolidate many of the church's boards and agencies. It was immediately opposed as a program that could centralize power and give a few persons control of the church.

Adoption of a statement against the Indochina War, calling it "the practical atheism of armed conflict" and denouncing the renewed American bombing was announced at the start of the meeting by the Council of Bishops.

British hit 5 gunmen in Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — British hit five gunmen today during an intensive gunbattle in Belfast's Turf Lodge area, home of a slain Irish Republican Army (IRA) officer, an army spokesman said.

There were no British casualties in the exchange which occurred after soldiers of the King's Own Scottish Borderers used bulldozers to clear barricades there for the third successive day.

"We believe we got five" the spokesman said. "One man lay in the street for 10 minutes before he was dragged off by his friends."

Trial starts

TRIAL for Silas Huddleston, 62, LaFollette, Tenn., started Monday. Huddleston is charged with the murders of United Mineworker Joseph "Jack" Yablonski, his wife and daughter. The Yablonskis were gunned down in their Clarksville, Pa., home. (UPI)

Soviet request rejected

GENEVA (UPI) — The West today turned down a Soviet proposal for an immediate ban on all chemical weapons because the measure excludes verification steps to prevent cheating.

British disarmament negotiator Henry C. Hainworth said both Western and non-aligned countries would want assurance of compliance before signing such a treaty.

Hainworth said the recent convention banning biological weapons on which the Soviet proposal is based was unique in that verification procedures were unnecessary. This is because such germ agents could easily rebound on the country using them.

Communist complaints that verification would be tantamount to legal espionage are groundless because inspection could be under international control and steps taken to ensure that it is not "abusive," Hainworth said.

The West hopes, he said, the Soviet rejection of verification does not imply a Communist refusal to negotiate a chemicals weapons ban altogether.

Ohio man, 30, faces air piracy charges

CHICAGO (UPI) — A man described as a "drifting film editor hard up for money" hijacked a Miami-to-Chicago Delta Air Lines plane Monday, but surrendered meekly to authorities about 40 minutes after the jet landed at Chicago's O'Hare International Airport.

William Herbert Green, III, 30, a native of Berea, Ohio, was scheduled for arraignment today on air piracy charges.

Greene was arrested as he came out the door of Delta flight 952, a four-engine Convair 440 carrying 85 passengers and a crew of six. He had already allowed the passengers to depart the plane.

"This man said he had been drifting around the United States for months," Chicago FBI chief Roy K. Moore. "He had no gun—although he threatened violence in a note to the crew. He said he had recently lived in Universal City, Calif., and was last employed as a film editor."

The hijacker was quoted as saying he wanted "the standard extortion rate for a big jet, $500,000 in small bills." He allowed the flight to continue to Chicago, let the passengers depart the aircraft and demanded to be flown to the Bahamas Islands.

A member of the International Association of Theatrical Stage Employees Local 776 since 1968, Greene had $10 in his pocket when he was arrested. He recently worked on the film "Sometimes a Great Notion" starring Paul Newman and Henry Fonda. However, a spokesman for Universal studio, where he was employed for the past three years, said Greene had been terminated.

He tells us that he 'got the idea for the hijacking after getting aboard the plane.' He said that he wrote a note and handed it to stewardess (Julie) O'Neal about four or five minutes after the takeoff from West Palm Beach, Fla., Moore said.

Earl Boyd, the plane's co-pilot, talked to the hijacker for about 40 minutes after the plane landed, sitting in a seat next to him. After the passengers got off, Boyd told the hijacker he had a choice of flying to Nassau and facing charges there or getting off the plane in Chicago.

Greene left with Boyd and was arrested by FBI agents without struggle at the door of the plane.

Most passengers aboard the craft said they didn't know anything was wrong.

Ford Motor Co. recalls autos

DETROIT (UPI) — Ford Motor Co. has recalled all the Ford Torinos and Mercury Montegos built in 1972 to correct a bearing problem that could cause the rear wheels to fall off under stress.

A total of 396,000 vehicles—the entire 1972 model-year run of intermediate size cars built by the automaker—were involved in the recall, "dating back to job one of the 1972 models," a spokesman said Monday.

Ford said that it has received reports of 16 cases in which the rear wheels and axle were separated from vehicles, but only one of these known cases involved personal injury.

Gordon H. Robertson, service engineering manager, said the problem results from the deterioration of rear axle bearings, which he attributed to a combination of factors affecting bearing life. "Under extreme conditions (such as a sharp turn), an axle shaft might become disengaged from the rear axle housing, possibly without adequate warning to the driver," he said.

Ford said owners of the affected vehicles would be notified to take their cars to a dealership for installation of a set of auxiliary retainer plates that will give audible warning if bearings fail.

With the auxiliary retainer plates installed, Ford said, the "droning, whirring, grinding sound" normally associated with wheel bearing failures will be clearly heard.

However, a spokesman said the automaker does not believe it is necessary to replace the bearings.

"We feel that the retainer plate will solve the problem," he said.

East was one of those really dangerous players who think they are experts while they do everything wrong.

His choice of a spade instead of club bid is a case in point. This time it should have worked out for him, because it got his opponents to three no-trump and, when West placed the queen of clubs on the table, South could count to just eight tricks and no further.

South took the first club and rattled off six diamond tricks and East had to make five discards. The first four were rather easy. He chuckled two spades, a heart and a club.

The fifth caused him a problem and he solved it in correctly. He jettisoned the queen of spades.

A New South knocked out the spade ace. The defense cashed three clubs and South made the last two tricks and his contract.

"I just couldn't play you for four clubs," said East to his unfortunate partner. I had five myself.

We can't print his partner's reply, but we feel that it was justified this time. The point is that East was not going to beat the hand unless his partner held four clubs.

A—Pass. You aren't happy about the contract, but your partner is almost certain to show up with four diamonds and you may be in the best spot after all. In any event, don't try to find a better landing place.

Instead of raising to two diamonds, your partner has rebid one heart. What do you do now?

DEAR ABBY — The letter from the daughter who didn't know how to tell her dear, sweet old mother that she had a very offensive body odor prompts this letter, and I welcome the opportunity to write it.

My own mother, age 67, was immaculate about her person, but suddenly several of us noticed a very strong, offensive body odor about her, no one wanted to tell her, for fear of hurting her feelings.

Finally, a young cousin who was a registered nurse urged me to get my mother to a doctor at once. My mother had not seen a doctor for years. I finally had to tell her why I wanted her to go in order to get her there.

A physical examination disclosed that my mother had advanced cancer of the female organs. She had surgery, but it was too late to save her, because she had let it go too long. The odor was the only clue. She had had no pain whatsoever.

Abby, please urge your readers to have checkups periodically, and where a persistent body odor exists to tell the person! (Many aging people lose their sense of smell.)

If I had read this letter in your column two years ago, my mother might be alive today. FAITHFUL READER

DEAR READER: Many others wrote offering the same valuable information. Thank you for writing!

DEAR ABBY — I usually agree with you, but I couldn't go along with your advice to DANNY'S GIRL. (She said Danny wore his hair down to his shoulders, was slight and had very delicate features, so he was mistaken for a girl. I let her suggest that Danny cut his hair, but he said he didn't want to. He did, however, say he would listen to some other suggestions.)

You said, "Tell him to grow a mustache." Well, that wouldn't work. He would look like a girl with a mustache.

If a guy wants to emasculate himself (figuratively) by wearing a feminine coiffure, he should be prepared to accept the consequences. LIKES MEN WHO LOOK LIKE MEN

DEAR LIKES — I received many interesting suggestions for Danny. Among them were: 1. Go topless. 2. Go bottomless.

DEAR ABBY — Please print this for the benefit of all those poor guys who feel rejected if a girl doesn't kiss them on the first date. I used to be like that.

I met a girl a few months ago, and I asked her out. We had a great time, but when I tried to kiss her goodnight, she said, "Don't rush it. I felt like an idiot. I figured she didn't like me, so I didn't call her for a long time. Then I got to thinking that maybe it was to her credit that she didn't jump at the chance to kiss a guy she'd only known a few hours. Anyway, I called her up and asked her out again."

She accepted and we had a wonderful time. This time I didn't try to kiss her, but when we said goodnight, she gave me a hug, which meant more to me than a kiss.

My advice to guys who don't get kissed on the first date is to call the girl for a second date. Don't feel rejected. It's nice to know that there are still some girls who place a high value on their kisses. I really appreciate a girl who's hard to get. HANGING IN THERE

DEAR HANGING: And it's nice for a hard-to-get girl to know that she's appreciated.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Prices moved sharply higher in brisk trading on the New York Stock Exchange Tuesday. Investors were encouraged by first quarter earnings reports.

Shortly before 1:15 p.m., the Dow Jones industrial average was up 6.17 to 972.76. Standard and Poor's 500 stock index was ahead 0.57 to 110.08.

The three-hour volume was 12,000,000 shares compared to 9,490,000 shares traded during the comparable period Monday.

Of the 1,698 shares traded, advances outnumbered declines 815 to 513.

Analysts said the strength of the market was based on first quarter earnings reports, many of which have exceeded expectations. Also, they noted most of the recent economic news has been favorable.

Gulf Oil, the most active stock, was off 1/4 at 45 1/2. American Motors was second at 7 1/2, up 1/4. Alaska Interstate was third, ahead 1 1/4 at 45 1/4.

The firm announced it was discussing the possibility of consolidating some or all of their operations with another firm.

Steels, rails, airlines and aircrafts were narrowly mixed.

Motors were higher and chemicals were mixed.

Quarter brings Gem upswing

TWIN FALLS—A general upswing in the Idaho economy was evident during the first quarter of 1972, with increases represented by higher prices for livestock in January and shown in employment, production and trade.

This is the report of the quarterly First Security Bank News Letter being distributed this week, according to Kenneth J. Newman, vice president and manager of the bank's Twin Falls branch. The publication is edited by Dr. Elroy Nelson, First Security vice president and economist.

Total personal income for the first quarter of 1972 is estimated at $620 million, or an increase of 10 per cent over that reported by the Department of Commerce for the first quarter of last year. The increase is approximately 2 per cent above the national average.

The outlook for the second quarter is similar to that in the nation, including an upward trend in production, employment and personal income, as well as trade. Expected also is more stability of prices, with a smaller increase in the Consumer Price Index in contrast to that of the first quarter.

Increases are expected in production of lumber and paper, most food products, apparel, household wares, electronic products and mobile homes. Employment in most segments should be higher in all areas of the state and unemployment should be down says the bank.

Cash receipts from farm marketing in the first three months totaled more than $150 million, or 6 per cent, above last year. Most increases were represented by higher prices for livestock in January and shown in employment, production and trade.

Commercial slaughter of cattle in Idaho for the first two months was 6 per cent above last year, and that for lamb was 39 per cent higher. Feeder cattle prices continued to increase in the fall months with greater demand by feedlot operators. Prices are expected to continue at relatively high levels, but no seasonal increase is expected.

Social services team works in TF

BY IRENE PETERS
Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS — A Spanish-American and two VISTA workers make up the Social Services team of the Tri-County Head Start program. Social services is designed to find out the needs of parents of Head Start pupils, and organize parents to take action. It began with the arrival Jan. 26 of Elaine Pacheco, a former elementary teacher with experience in serving Idaho migrant workers. On March 15, she was joined by Peggy Vorpahl and Judi Jensen, participants in the Volunteers in Service to America program. Miss Vorpahl has a degree in elementary education from Pacific Lutheran University, Tacoma, Wash., and had thought about joining VISTA all through college. Originally from Junction City, Ore., Miss Jensen attended Biola College in Los Angeles and Oregon State University, Corvallis, where she received her degree in elementary education. While in Los Angeles, she worked with a community services program sponsored by her college in the Watts area. Miss Pacheco is a native of Pueblo, Colo., and first came to Idaho in the summer of 1969. She worked with migrant programs in American Falls, Aberdeen, and Pocatello.

US strafing charged

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union said Monday four Russian cargo ships were damaged in American bombing and strafing runs on Haiphong harbor Sunday and warned the United States to take strict measures to stop it from happening again. The official protest note did not mention any injuries to the Soviet crewmembers but it said several port workers were killed or wounded. (U.S. Secretary of State

US troop strength down

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. military strength in South Vietnam was reduced by 5,000 men last week but the overall number of Americans in the combat zone increased by 11,000 because of the Communists' offensive, the U.S. command said Monday. Almost all of the increase was the result of 16,000 additional Navy personnel being based off the coast in aircraft carriers and other ships added to battle posts there. These Navy forces,

Snake River Council Scoutarama Saturday

TWIN FALLS — Skills and activities of Boy Scout units from the Falls District, Snake River Council, will be displayed here Saturday in the annual Scoutarama. About 40 Cub Scout packs, Scout troops and Explorer units will take part in the show, according to Roger Marsh, district activities chairman. The event will be presented in the Twin Falls High School gymnasium from 2 until 8 p.m. Highlights of the exhibition will be periodic shows by Order of the Arrow Indian dancers, Cub Scout pinewood derby racing, and emplacement of a 50 foot high flagpole by Troop 69, which will be suspended off the ground near the entrance. Other exhibits will include rope making machinery, fish and game, pigeon raising, water pollution, portrait painting, space exploration, ecology, and gun safety, Marsh said. The show demonstrates skills learned by the boys during regular unit activities. Proceeds from ticket sales will be divided between expenses of the event, for sustaining activities of troops in the district, and for council activities, Marsh said. In 1971, the Scoutarama attracted between 3,000 and 4,000 people. Need to talk? Hotline 733-0122

Hailey sewer rates draw ire

By TERRY CAMPBELL
Times-News writer

HAILEY — New water and sewer rates came under fire Monday night during the Hailey City Council meeting.

After discussion, the council tabled an ordinance setting water and sewer rates and scheduled a special meeting to study the rates for 7:30 p.m. Monday. Councilman Charles Dunn said the council should get a breakdown on the amount of revenue the new schedule will bring in each month.

Verdon Murphree, owner of the Blue Spruce restaurant, said his water bill was $10 a month in December, 1965, and was raised to $17.50 in March, 1970. With the new sewer line installed, Murphree said the first month's combined water and sewer bill was $86.40.

"I have no knowledge of official action to adjust the rates," the restaurant owner said. If private homes are charged $6.50 for sewer and $7 for water, the "same yardstick" should be used for businesses," he said.

Dunn said restaurants are charged a minimum of two equivalent connections for combined sewer and water rate for each connection.

— $13.50 for combined sewer and water rate for each connection — and that the remainder of the rate was based on the amount of seating.

Murphree said the rate should be determined by the "volume of business, the number of customers waited on, not the number of seats. Nowhere in the United States does the sewer bill exceed the water."

Keith Bird, owner of Bird's Laundromat, said the new rates are "really giving the business people a real shaft." He asked, "How do you expect people to operate?"

City Atty. Stephen W. Boller said $77,000 was needed by January, 1973, to meet bond interest, principal and reserve payments. He said that when in full operation, an estimated 635 equivalent connections would exist, bringing in a monthly revenue of about $8,600.

But City Clerk Verda Allred said that about 100 home and business owners have currently connected to the sewer line with a dead line established for Sept. 30.

Bird said sewer and water rates were estimated in 1967 at $12.88 per equivalent connection. He said with the China Garden Subdivision, which contains 32 homes, and other buildings, rates should go down.

Mayor Lawrence Heagle said building and labor costs increased between 1967 and 1971, when the system was bid. Dunn said the cost difference caused a bid to come in $260,000 over original estimate costs made in 1967. The city clerk said that the first estimated rate schedule was based on 500 connections.

In other action, Gary McStay, Sun Valley Ready Mix, said that he had lost three sewer hookup installations because his customer was told at city hall that McStay was not a qualified bidder.

After consultation with Martin Albrethsen, sewer treatment plant manager, the council affirmed that McStay was qualified in all three of the questioned areas — that he was using regulation pipe, he has a general construction license and he employed a qualified plumber.

The council also tabled for study a complaint by Bird that the sewer line in his residence and funeral home had been placed in a position where it was "impossible to hook on to," and that a cement pad for garbage facilities on his property had been removed during excavation.

Not spring, yet

COLD NIGHTS are still occurring in Twin Falls, as is attested to by ice formations in the small park near North Five Points. An irrigation hose was left on during the night Monday and the result was ice formations on the grass, evergreens and low shrubs.

Mobile home damaged in Burley fire

BURLEY — A large unoccupied mobile home in Burley was damaged by fire Monday.

Burley Fire Chief Ous Williams said workmen were welding on the frame of the unit at H and W Trailer Sales, 259 Overland Ave., when the fire broke out about 6:15 p.m.

Flames destroyed the outside wall.

Despite a strong wind, two trucks and men from the fire department extinguished the blaze quickly.

TF youth 'good' after fall

TWIN FALLS — Eric Leuze, 13, Twin Falls, is listed in fairly good condition today at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital.

Leuze was injured in a fall in the Snake River Canyon Sunday while hiking with two companions. Leuze and Chris Roberts, 13, fell about 6 p.m. and were rescued at 10 p.m. Sunday.

Curt Lueze picked out of the canyon to report the incident.

Bank closes

TWIN FALLS — The main office and two branches of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co. will be closed at 2 p.m. Thursday.

The closing will allow employees to attend the funeral of Harry Eaton.

McEaton, president and chairman of the board of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust Co., died Monday. Funeral services will be at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at the First Christian Church.

Parking plans eyed at Burley

BURLEY — The Burley City Council Monday night discussed offstreet parking and an insurance settlement on a demolished police car.

The council considered a resolution to create a downtown local improvement district for offstreet parking, costing $300,000, with the cost to be paid by assessments against adjoining property.

Attorney Peter Snow, representing two "concerned clients," asked the council how the $300,000 cost was arrived at.

Mayor Curtis Robertson said the merchants had arrived at the figure through their own calculations. Snow pointed out that councilmen James Roper and Les Morgan are stockholders in the Burley Parking Association, sponsors of the proposal.

He said he wondered if there wouldn't be a conflict of interest if they were to vote on the proposal. Mayor Robertson reassured Snow that Roper and Morgan would not vote on any matter involving their interests.

The council agreed that the method of assessments will be difficult to determine, since some business firms in the area to be assessed have already provided offstreet parking for their own firms. Levying a heavy assessment against these firms would be unfair.

Robertson said. The council will consider the problem further in future meetings.

Burley Police Chief Ken Barry said the city's insurance carrier has offered to settle the claim resulting from a police car accident for $2,000. The car, driven by Officer Glen Wilkinson, was demolished during a high-speed chase in March, when it crashed into a ditch where a bridge had been under construction.

Barry said the police car was nine months old and had an estimated 62 per cent of its "useful life" left at the time of the accident. He said he had talked the insurance people up to $100,000 to include the deductible amount, and suggested the council accept the offer. The council agreed that the offer was adequate.

Barry asked the council to consider buying three new police cars to replace several now in service. After a discussion, the council agreed to issue a series of bid calls acquiring three police cars, a street sweeper, three pickup trucks, a mowing machine for the golf course and two electrical transformers for the electrical department.

The bids will be opened during the May 1 council meeting.

Successful

FILER — The Filer swimming pool fund drive has been successful to date, according to William Brake, chairman of the pool committee. Brake will go to Boise Thursday to present plans of the pool to the Idaho State Parks Board. Volunteers are taking donations. Alvin Ochsner heads the team of 30 workers which is covering the town area.

Water May 1

HOLLISTER — Salmon River Canal Co. directors have set May 1 as the first date for water deliveries on the Salmon Tract.

At a special board meeting Monday evening at the company office at Hollister, the directors decided on a full allotment of 1.167 acre feet per share for the 1972 water season.

According to Morris Huffman, manager, orders will be taken April 28 by the ditch riders.

The reservoir reading for today was gauge height of 66.30 and 138,785 acre feet of storage. Last year's high reading came on June 21 and was 67.80, said Huffman.

Hagerman islands bill draws protest

HAGERMAN — The Idaho Fish and Game Department director has protested a U. S. Senate bill transferring title to Snake River islands to a Utah judge.

In a letter to Sen. Len B. Jordan, Joseph C. Greenley, fish and game director, strenuously opposes a senate bill introduced by Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, on behalf of Federal Judge Willis Ritter, Salt Lake City.

The bill would convey title of the publicly owned islands to Judge Ritter for token payment. Greenley said "it appears to us that S.B. 2421 is a flagrant example of special interest legislation designed to benefit one individual at the expense of the public and to circumvent proper legal procedures. We do not feel," the director said, "that this is an item that should be taken up in the Congress of the United States."

This dispute should rightfully be settled within the established recourse of our judicial system and the existing case should be permitted to be carried to conclusion without this interference, Greenley said.

Gooding considers plan to update water system

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News writer

GOODING — The Gooding City Council is considering a five-year, $78,000 plan to update the city water system.

According to Mayor Harley Crippen it would cost almost $78,000 to install new water mains in town.

He said that a five-year plan allowing the city to do most of the work would be better than having a bond issue which he said "costs too much for the red tape and probably wouldn't pass anyway."

Roberta Dunham, drafting technologist for Durrell Moore, engineer, Heyburn, met with the council to discuss a tentative plan for the "Rite" Subdivision, to determine whether it meets city requirements.

Cecil Hobbey, city attorney, suggested that the engineers obtain a copy of the city ordinance and draw the plan so that it conforms to city codes. The proposed subdivision consists of six lots each 75 by 120 feet with 60 foot streets and an 80 foot cut-de-sac.

Ray Hendrix met with the council to request installation of a proposed sidewalk along Seventh Avenue to the new high school on the north side of the street instead of the south side as presently planned. He said having it on the south presents some possible safety hazards as students would be crossing streets unnecessarily.

The mayor told Hendrix the decision on sidewalk location was not final as some figures still have to come back from the engineers.

He said he thought it would be less expensive to put it on the south side because fewer trees would have to be removed and not as many ditches would have to be covered.

Bon Schmitt, Jerome, manager of Idaho Video Corporation, met with the council and said that work would begin on the amplifier housing within the next week and there would be a temporary interruption of service.

He also discussed some of the problems involved in installing the cable and said the company would be trying to improve service and reception.

In other council action, city superintendent J. C. Moore said Gooding Jaycees will be cleaning streets and yards in cooperation with Gooding City Cleanup Week April 17-23.

A trailer court license was approved for Strickland and Painter Real Estate.

Punctured pipeline at Buhl ranch spurts gas

BUHL — A punctured pipeline spurted gasoline 40 to 50 feet in the air at the Maurice Eckert ranch northwest of Buhl Monday afternoon.

Eckert, owner of the ranch, said the 12-inch pipeline, belonging to El Paso Gas Co., was punctured during dredging of an irrigation pond.

State Police Officer Duane Owen said a front end loader operator, employed by Winn Construction Co., Buhl, had been dredging silt out of a water pond on the ranch about 3:30 p.m. when he hit the pipe near the pond.

Eckert said he notified company officials in Boise. Crews were sent to repair the line, which runs along the top of the ground across a corner of the ranch. He said the pipe was covered with only four to six inches of soil. A temporary patch was put on the pipe, stopping the leak about 6 p.m.

Eckert said school buses were re-routed and sheriff's officials wouldn't use their car radios to call the office, fearing sparks could touch off an explosion.

Some gasoline was still bubbling out after dark Monday evening, Eckert said. He said pumps at the company office in Salt Lake City showed no pressure drop until after 6 p.m.

2 petitions filed for Filer posts

FILER — Two petitions have been filed for the May 9 election of trustees in School District 413.

Everett Andrews has filed a petition for zone two and David Chadwick has filed for zone five, according to Mrs. Loren Farmer, school clerk.

New trustees will be elected for all five of the new zones following the zoning election which passed the zone boundary changes.

Nominating petitions for the candidates must be filed in the superintendent's office on or before April 22. Each petition must have at least five signatures of qualified electors residing in the zone of the candidate.

The polls will be open from noon until 7 p.m. May 9 for the trustee election.

Bellevue curfew

BELLEVUE — The curfew siren will now be blown in Bellevue every night at 10 p.m.

Violators, under 18 years of age, will be prosecuted by the order of Mayor Claude Bullard. The move was prompted by acts of vandalism within the city during the last few months.

Woman changes plea on embezzlement

TWIN FALLS — Carolyn Joyce Heston, Twin Falls, withdrew a plea of guilty and submitted a plea of innocent in Fifth District Court of charges of embezzlement.

She was charged with embezzlement of $2,197.39 from the Breez-Way grocery Sept. 24, 1970. The charge was dismissed on completion of a six-month probation ordered by the court.

Edward James Jarolimek, Jr., Buhl, was given a pre-sentencing investigation after pleading guilty to charges of delivery of a controlled substance (marijuana).

John Delbert Cornelius was sentenced to 15 years in the Idaho State Penitentiary on charges of first degree burglary involving the Aug. 4, 1970 burglary of the Twin Falls Municipal Golf Course clubhouse. The sentence was remitted by Judge John W. Ward, and Cornelius ordered held for Oregon authorities. He also faces drug charges in Oregon, the court was told.

Clifford Sparrow, Twin Falls, was also granted a pre-sentencing investigation on a consolidated charge of delivery of a controlled substance.

Whether Public Employee Retirement should be taken off the top of each college's share, or if the funds should be allocated to the colleges and then paid back to the retirement fund.

CSI share of Gem funds undetermined

TWIN FALLS — College of Southern Idaho's share of the state appropriation to junior colleges has not been set pending a decision on method of disbursement.

Dr. James E. Taylor, CSI president, said at a regular meeting Monday night CSI's portion of the $1,305 million allocated to junior colleges will be about 58 per cent and North Idaho Junior College's share will be about 42 per cent. This is determined by the number of full-time equivalent students at each school.

He said the question on disbursement revolves around

Whether Public Employee Retirement should be taken off the top of each college's share, or if the funds should be allocated to the colleges and then paid back to the retirement fund.

He anticipates a decision will be made within a week and that a special trustee meeting will be called to determine next year's tuition.

At present he foresees no tuition increase for in-district students.

Burley awards contract

By LEE TREMAINE
Times-News writer

BURLEY — The Burley City Council awarded a trash-hauling contract and heard a complaint from city motel owners about low occupancy rates during Monday night's meeting.

Teal Sanitation Service, owned and operated by Vealton Teal, who bid 48 per cent, was awarded the contract to operate the new city-wide trash hauling service. The only other bidder was Parks and Sons, Twin Falls, who bid 59.5 per cent.

The bids refer to the percentage of the monthly charge levied by the city for sanitation services which will be turned over to the hauler. The city will retain 52 per cent of the monthly fees, under the contract.

Teal's offer stipulated that he will take over the city's portion of the trash collection service on June 1. Parks and Sons would have been unable to begin work until July 1, their offer said.

Teal has been collecting trash for many of the city's business firms, with the city operation a residential service. Under the new franchise, Teal will collect all trash in the city, with the city levying the fees and handling all financial transactions.

An ordinance passed by the council stipulates that all residents and businesses must participate in the service.

The council also heard a protest from a number of Burley motel owners against the proposed expansion of the Banner Motel.

Six motel owners, joined by City Clerk Chuck Shaddock, owner of a motel himself, said they have been experiencing difficulty in keeping their units filled. Throughout 1971, they said, their occupancy rate averaged about 60 per cent, meaning at least 40 per cent of all rooms were empty most of the time.

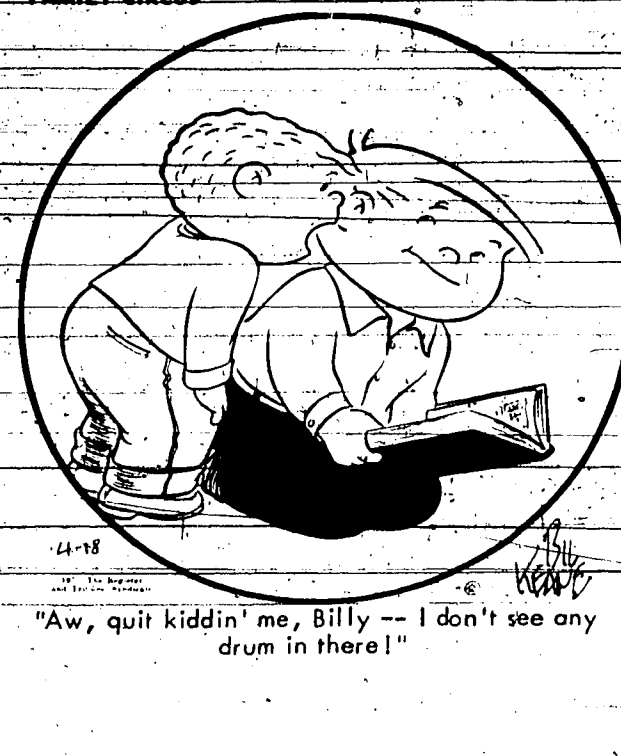

The projected expansion of the Banner Motel will utilize a sizable loan from the federal Small Business Administration, the motel owners said. This loan puts the SBA, they charged, in competition with private enterprise. They said they felt that the city does not yet have the potential for the projected expansion.

The owners charged that Truman Banner, owner of the Banner Motel, also owns a farm and an auto body shop, and does not depend on the motel for a living, whereas they must depend on their own businesses for support.

Citing a similar instance in Idaho Falls recently, in which publicity over a low occupancy rate was "instrumental" in canceling plans by a motel chain to expand, they said they hoped publicity over the problems in Burley might have the same effect.

The owners appearing at the meeting included Bill Barnhall, Roland Willis, John McCloskey, Mill Carlos, Brent Thompson, a spokesman from the Ramada Inn, and Shaddock.

"Aw, quit kiddin' me, Billy -- I don't see any drum in there!"

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, APRIL 19, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime can be quite an ordinary day with some possibly confused thoughts and ideas which it will be wise for you to rise above, but then tonight finds an electric attitude surrounding you and you will be able to express whatever interests you, the most so even if it's daytime business, get it organized tonight.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make sure you do notirk those at home in a.m., and then the evening can be a pleasurable and interesting one there. Get ideas well organized. Forget that serious side of your nature and dwell on the lighthearted.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Out of that rut early. Enjoy whatever appeals to you most with a congenial friend. Later handle that correspondence with care and brightness, as is your custom. Don't get involved in something unpleasant.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Once you have handled business matters wisely, get out to places and be with the people who appeal to you or can be amusing. Make that telephone call that is important to your wellbeing. Time is money, so use it well.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can converse confidentially with others, but don't divulge some important point as yet to anyone. Forget that dull work and take advantage of an opportunity to enjoy recreation you like. Dress well.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) It's fine to go out with one you admire, but first be sure to take care of important work ahead of you. Accept an invitation, extended to you for some evening social. Dress according to the situation.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Others who are working out some project with you require the benefit of your fine judgment as well as more labor on your part. Give it. Friends can be annoying during day when you are busy but tonight are a boon to your lagging spirit.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) An out-of-towner comes through with the right answers to present enigmas you have now. Handle those outside affairs, though, they may be a little harder than you thought. Plan your time well early.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can take care of that responsibility early that will bring in more benefits, frees your time for the evening's pleasure. Listen to what new contacts have to say. You can gain much through their ideas.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can rely on a good assistant or associate to give you the advice you need to become more successful and happy, so be sure to show your gratitude. Your responsibilities seem difficult to handle, but changing your attitude makes them easy.

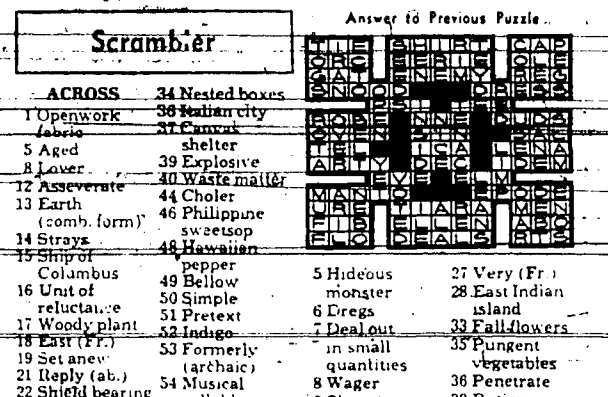

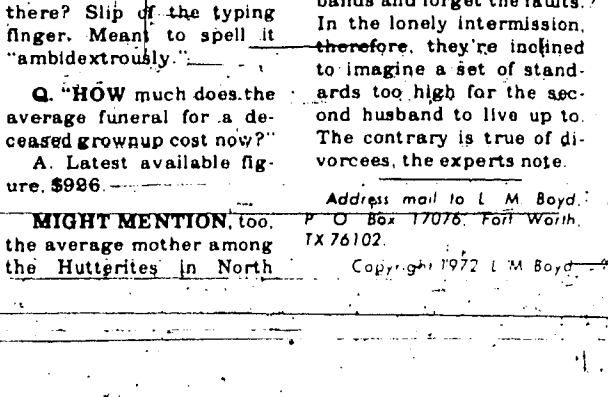

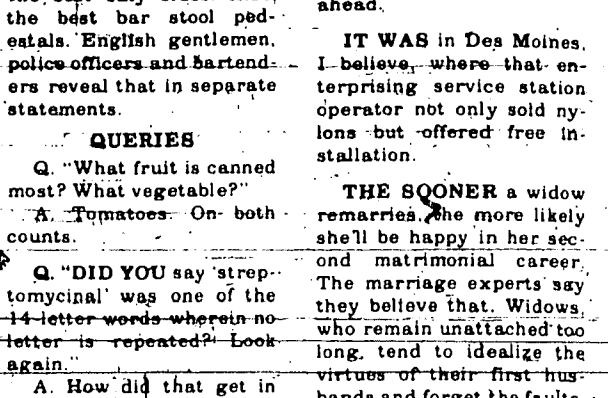

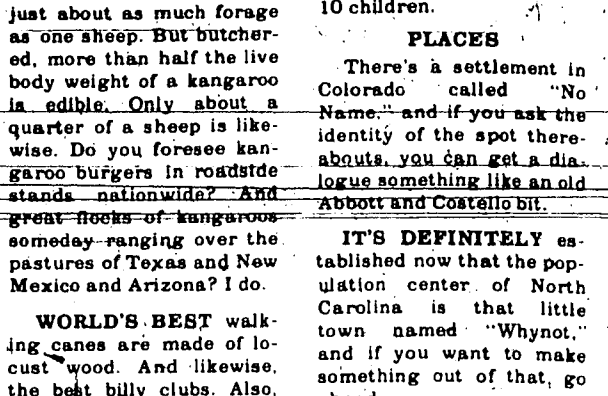

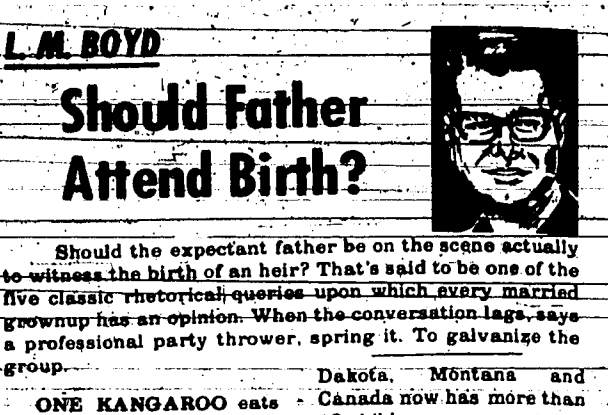

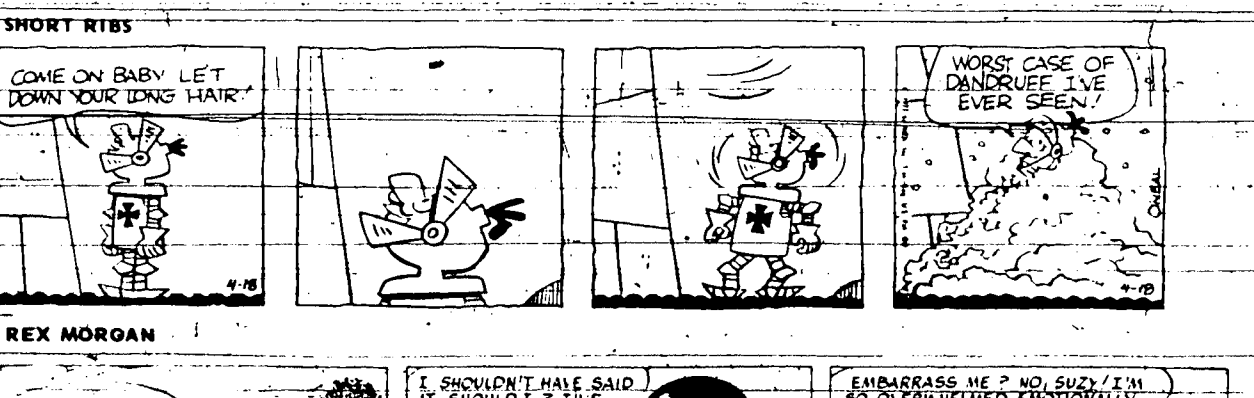

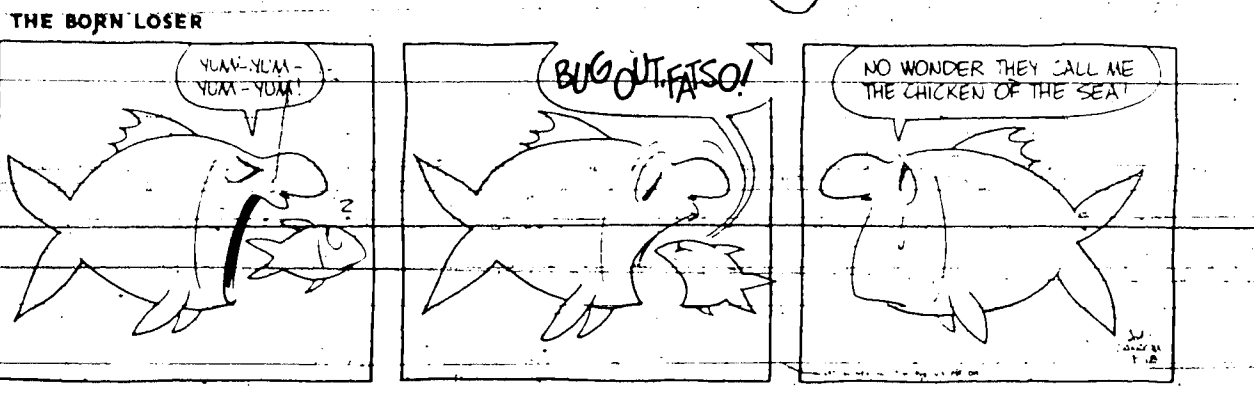

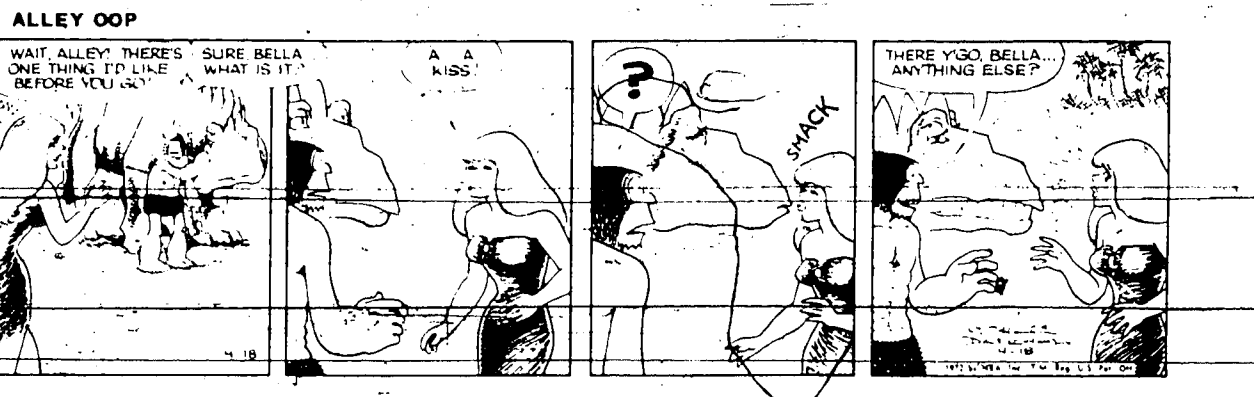

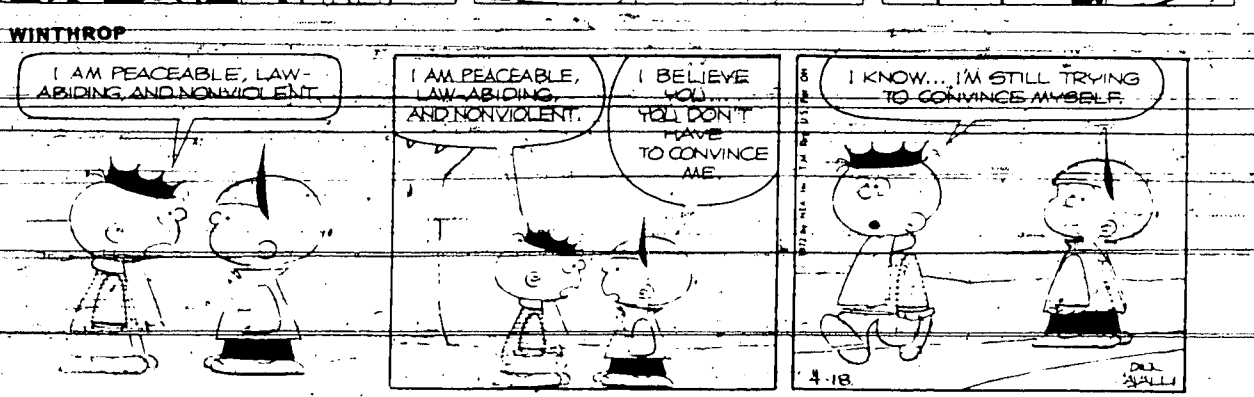

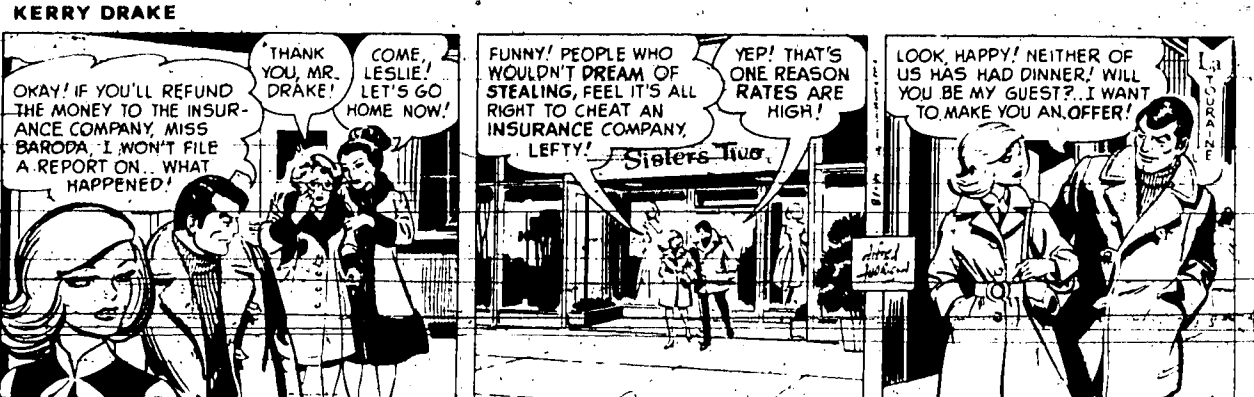

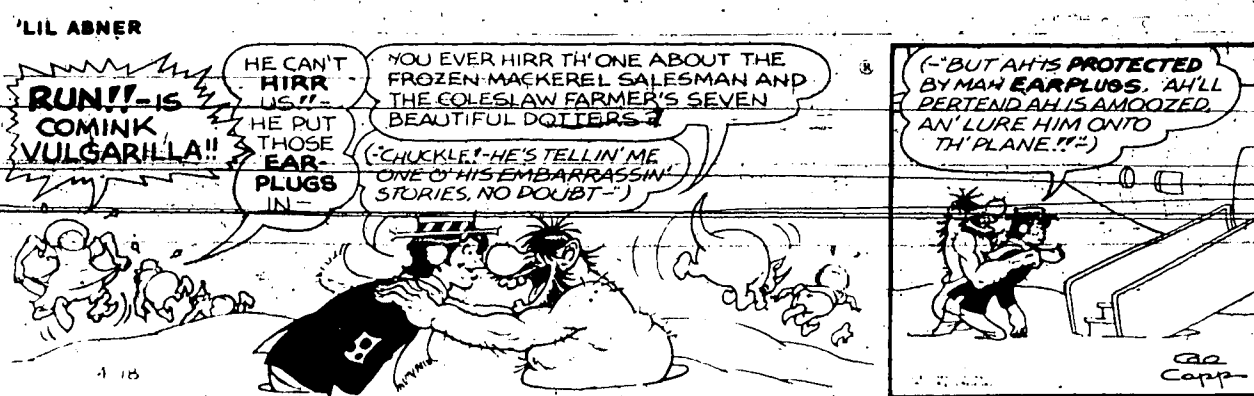

PATRICK (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have been taking all the favors and good work of a close tie for granted, so now is the time to change all that. More cooperation and consideration for a good association is also important. Take it easy tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you run through all that work ahead of you quickly and well, you free time you want for recreation you like. Save more time for mate who is feeling neglected and rightly so, most likely. Do more practical thinking, too.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A close tie can now give you the added support you need for some project that is important to you. Once your work is done well during day, you can have a most delightful evening. Avoid one who downgrades you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those rather strange persons who will really enjoy having a great deal of work to do but will complain to high heaven while doing it, which without doubt is nothing but letting off steam. It is best to teach early to consider the feelings of others and adopt a more philosophical attitude. An ideal chart for the teacher, the nurse, the accountant, especially, male or female.

After the fun, a hot bath, with flameless electric water heating

After sinking your last putt, it's relaxing to sink into a hot bath using the clean energy that takes nothing from the air, adds nothing to the air, indoors or out—yours for a neater, nicer world. See your dealer or plumber.

Library to emphasize services

TWIN FALLS—Emphasis on library services for everyone will be shown here during National Library Week which continues through Saturday. The Twin Falls Regional Library bookmobile and a special book van will make visits to all grade schools in the community, shopping centers and the downtown mall. Displays in the public library and in the bookmobile will also be featured. Bookmarks will be given out by stores and banks. Bookmobile visits will be held at Lincoln, Bickel, Washington, Morningside, Harrison, the Lutheran elementary schools and O'Leary and Robert Stuart Junior high schools. On Thursday it will visit the mall from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and will be at the Sears parking lot from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday it will visit senior citizen housing areas and Saturday shopping centers. Schedule of the Idaho State Library services van for the week will include 11 communities. Charleen Orr, state library coordinator in Twin Falls, said this week the schedule will feature special National Library displays of talking books, large print books, braille books, films, framed art prints, mini-masters, microfilm print outs and various other special items. On Monday, visits were made to Gooding and Wendell and Tuesday visits will be to Shoshone and Richfield. Wednesday the van will stop from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Hailey and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. in Bellevue. On Thursday it goes to Burley from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and Piler from 2:30 to 5 p.m. Friday's visits include Buhl from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and Hagerman from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday the van will be in Jerome from 9:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. In the Twin Falls Public Library in addition to special displays, a program will be given at 11 a.m. Saturday featuring the Jolly Jesters' Marionette show, "Alice in Wonderland." The Jolly Jesters, under the direction of Mrs. B. J. Reichard, Jerome, made the marionettes and produce their own shows. All interested persons are invited to attend the show in the children's room. Special information and displays of the library's new microfilm facility, map collections and other special information and services will be offered. National Library Week has been observed each spring since 1958 as a nation-wide effort to focus public attention on reading as a source of personal fulfillment and on the importance of libraries in national progress. Arlen Call, librarian, explained.

Public officials set TF meeting

TWIN FALLS—Public works officials including city, county, state and federal representatives from a three-state area will meet in Twin Falls April 27 through April 29. Jean Milar, Twin Falls City manager and chairman of convention plans, said the event is the annual American Public Works Association Rocky Mountain Chapter conference. Sessions will be at the Holiday Inn for delegates from Idaho, Montana and the upper half of Wyoming. Milar said between 80 and 100 delegates and 20 to 25 wives are expected. William W. Sacht, district engineer, Idaho Department of Highways, Boise, is association president. In addition to governmental public works administrators, the convention will be attended by private engineers, planners, educators, city council members, county commissioners, contractors and suppliers. Purpose of the annual conference, he said, is to give those involved in public works programs the benefit of an exchange of ideas and to bring about the betterment of public works practices and programs. Thursday, April 27, will include registration, a board of directors' meeting and social activities. On Friday, speakers will include Dale Reed who will talk on the general electric lighting systems, and Robert Burd, director, Region X, Air-Water programs, speaking on water and air purification programs. Ron Haney, coordinator of federal programs in Idaho and assistant to Gov. Cecil Andrus, will discuss the proposed revenue sharing programs for cities and counties. John Rosholt, Twin Falls attorney, will speak Friday afternoon on land and water resources and a panel on traffic signing will feature engineers of the state and county highway offices. Ray Rostron, Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce manager, will address the dinner session Friday night, speaking on "Free Enterprise." Saturday topics include an institute for municipal engineers and a session on solid waste. The annual business meeting at 10:30 a.m. Saturday will conclude the meeting. Special events for women will include a tour of Kellwood's Hosiery plant in Twin Falls, a luncheon at the Blue Lakes Country Club, Thursday and tours of the new Twin Falls mall and Shoshone Falls Park.
